

RIS to RadNet Go-Live Is This Weekend!

Health PEI is scheduled to transition to Oracle Health RadNet on Sunday, October 25, 2026, replacing the existing GE Centricity RIS.

Here's what staff should know:

- October 24, 8:00 p.m.: Technical cutover begins. Clinicians will temporarily stop placing Diagnostic Imaging orders in Cerner and follow the established paper requisition and RIS downtime procedures.
- October 25, midnight: Planned RadNet go-live, or when the official All Clear is communicated.
- Following go-live: Enhanced support will be available to help staff transition to the new workflows.

Clinicians will continue placing DI orders through PowerChart, with some changes to future orders, scheduling and clinical alerts. Additional details are outlined in the CIS Bulletin.
Please review the upcoming communications and follow the established downtime procedures during the transition.

Please contact Kerry Rogers, Manager Clinical Information System or Mike Devine, Manager CIS Operations, for more information
